Old Board Will Meet Tomorrow Night and New Board on Tuesday

Will Close Business of the Fiscal Year and Plan New Year

President George B. Bartlett said yesterday that the village board of trustees will meet tomorrow evening to pay bills and wind up the business of the fiscal year.

Laurel D. Powles, clerk, is expected home today from Florida, and the books probably will be available for Friday night's meeting.

Bartlett said he would next call a meeting of the new board for Tuesday evening at which time the board will organize and appoint committees.

Winston A. Dalgaard and James E. Maplethorpe said they would have nothing in the way of new legislation at the start, and Cunningham could not be reached for comment. It is expected that they will devote most of their time at the start to getting acquainted with the board's affairs.

Both Dalgaard and Maplethorpe denied that they had been besieged by requests from local residents asking for changes and improvements as was reported.

General Wilbur has the distinction of being the only American ever presented a congressional medal of honor by an American president outside the continental limits of the United States.

Edwin L. Gilroy, judge advocate of the vulture, will be master of ceremonies and will introduce a number of distinguished guests.

The American Legion quartet will sing and songs also will be sung by Miss Mary Santi of Highland Park.

High School Student Council To Play Host To 8th Graders May 1

Members of the Antioch Grade school eighth grade class will be guests of the Antioch High school student council on Thursday, May 1, for the annual "eighth grade day," according to spokesmen for the high school group.

The program for their entertainment will include a band concert in the morning, trips to the class rooms while school is in session, lunch at noon, and attendance at the Antioch, Grant, Palatine track meet in the afternoon. The event is sponsored to acquaint the graders with the workings of the high school and give them an idea of what to expect next year, when they attend high school.

Frostee Sno Factory Will Start Operation With Day Shift May 5

May 5 has been set as the date on which the Frostee Sno plant will start operation. John Oftedahl, owner, announced last evening.

"We will operate a day shift for the first two months, and hope to change to three shifts as the season advances," he said.

Oftedahl asked that former employees of the day shift who have not taken employment elsewhere get in touch with Fred Stahmer, factory foreman.

The work of moving the big steel building and the 20,000 gallon steel tank from the Corona ave and Williams St., has been completed, and the displays will be made there.

The company made its first foreign shipment since the war this week to Stockholm, Sweden. It was a display set.

Five Sets of Twins in Antioch Township High No Problem for Teachers

Antioch Township High school has five sets of twins.

The girls are in the majority as the result of mixed sets, but the teachers are thankful for the three boy and girl sets because it eases their task of telling the twins apart.

It's the gracious June and Jane Hunter, and Colleen and Joan Fairman where they have a little trouble, but the problem is eliminated as to George and Gerry Sass, Louise and Robert McCann and Donald and Donna Schultz.

Conference on Wildlife Conservation Scheduled For Apr. 30 in Chicago

Top officials of the Fish and Wildlife Service will hold a series of public conferences in 11 key cities from April 30 to June 2 for the purpose of discussing migratory waterfowl problems and hunting regulations with State officials, conservation agencies, and representatives of sportsmen's groups, according to an announcement made today by Albert M. Day, Service Director.

"The Service has long felt the need for more effective contacts with State officials and groups interested in the future of our migratory waterfowl so we have decided this year to try out a rather extensive experiment to answer this need," Mr. Day explained.

At these meetings, according to Mr. Day, Service officials will discuss the purposes of the waterfowl regulations and present as clearly and honestly as possible the waterfowl situation on the North American continent today.

One of the main purposes of the meetings, Mr. Day emphasized, "is to give the States, organized conservation groups, and sportsmen a chance to submit any information, recommendations, or statements that they wish to offer." The Service Director made it clear, however, that the details of the hunting regulations for the 1947 season cannot be given until the Service's investigators learn the result of the spring hatch.

During the course of the meetings, Service officials in charge will present a constructive program of what might be done to alleviate the waterfowl situation as it now exists. From the discussion on this subject they hope to develop a long-range plan for waterfowl conservation and management.

The tentative schedule of meetings includes, Chicago, Ill., Apr. 30. Exact dates and locations of the meetings will be announced as soon as detailed arrangements are completed.

Bowman Old Timers' Club Gains 66 New Members This Week

Men and women with twenty-five or more years of service with the Bowman Dairy Company were honored at a dinner Monday night, April 21, at the Hotel Sherman. Bowman Old Timers' club has a total membership of 475 and 66 new members were admitted at the honor dinner after completing twenty-five continuous years of employment.

Bowman is now serving the fourth generation of metropolitan area families and is one of the oldest dairy companies in this country.

Bowman's president, Dr. D. B. Peck, is a member of the veteran organization and welcomed the men and women attending the banquet. In commenting on the fine service represented by the employment record Dr. Peck said: "Bowman is proud of its outstanding group of people, our Superior Flavor dairy products and the service in delivering these products to the residents of this area. Bowman is a good place to work and this Old Timers' Club, with its large membership, proves this fact."

Keller Introduces Bill To Give Teachers Pay For 10-day Sick Leave

Nick Keller, Representative from the Eighth district, sponsor of School Bill - H. B. 424—now in the House of Representatives, and referred to the committee on education, is creating considerable interest in school circles.

Under the bill introduced by Rep. Keller full-time teachers and school employees of any school district would be allowed at least 10 days sick leave during each school year with full pay. In addition, a similar number of days sick leave at half-pay would also be authorized. Any full-time sick leave not used in one year would accumulate up to a total of 30 days. This accumulated sick leave would be available at full pay in case of prolonged illness, with the addition of a similarly calculated number of days at half pay. The bill merely sets forth minimum provisions, and individual boards of education could adopt more liberal policies.

Sick leave is to be interpreted as personal illness, quarantine at home, or serious illness or death in the immediate family or household. After 3 days of absence the school board may require a physician's certificate in verification of the existence of illness.

Representative Keller pointed out that many private employers and practically all public agencies other than the schools already have sick leave provisions. The adoption of sick leave throughout the school system should operate both to protect a group of deserving public employees and to discourage withdrawal from the teaching profession.

Antioch Youth Wins Lake Forest Singles Bowling Tournament

Pitted against 511 other contestants, Don Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bauer of 884 Main St., walked off with the singles championship in bowling at Lake Forest Monday and with it $500 in prize money.

Bauer, a 178 average bowler, averaged 203, emerging from the field with the leading handicap aggregate of 1,117 to take top money.

Bauer's game, actual bowling, were 234, 186, 202, 201 and 221 in the five game series. His 1,044 total plus a 73-pin handicap gave him 1,117.

Bauer gave advance notice of his potential strength when he calmly bowled a total of 644 in a three-game series against the crack Meister Brau team of Chicago in an exhibition match at Antioch. He bowled better than three men of the Chicago championship team.

Now 20 years of age Don served in the navy two years as seaman first class, enlisting at the age of 17 years and six months. He is employed at Johnson Motors plant in Waukegan and commutes from Antioch.

Committees For Fire Convention Report Tuesday

Plans for the County Firemen's convention to be held here on May 26 are well formulated as shown by progress of committees as reported at a fire meeting held Tuesday evening.

The Dance committee reported that music had been secured for the street dance to be held in the evening after the meeting. A parade, with floats and other entries will start at two p. m., and will feature prizes for the best, the most original and the most humorous floats. All business men of the community are invited to enter floats. Arrangements will be made to have the Sons of Legion, the high school band, color guards from the local posts of the Legion and V. F. W., and fire apparatus from neighboring places to take part in the parade, which will form at the high school grounds.

Other entertainment of the day will include water fights, tug-of-war, and other contests.

Departments from Bristol, Wilmet, Salem, Brighton, Lake Geneva, Richmond, Genoa City and Wheatland have been invited to participate in the day's events, besides the member departments of Lake County. All manufacturers of fire fighting equipment have been invited to display equipment here and it is believed that a great many of them will avail themselves to show their goods.

Antioch P.T.A. Elects Officers and Listens To Talk by Orpha White

Donald Berkeiser will head the Antioch Parent Teacher club as president next year as the result of the election of officers at last Monday evening's meeting.

Other officers chosen at this time and who will be installed at the next meeting on May 19 are Mrs. Lillian Gray, vice president; Mrs. Anna Neilson, secretary; Loren Trabert, treasurer; Mrs. Hazel Van Patten, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Barbara Holbek, historian.

The club heard a talk by Mrs. Orpha L. White, on tuberculosis, its care and prevention, and witnessed movies shown by Mrs. White on methods used in fighting the disease. She is county administrative secretary for the Lake County Tuberculosis association.

The May meeting will be an open one and all patrons of the Antioch school are urged by officers to attend.

Henry Rentner, chairman of the Summer Recreation program, asked that all persons having suggestions or criticisms of the program are asked to attend and present their views.

"We will have a difficult job this summer finding someone to carry on the work. Teachers are having to take summer studies and will be unable to help, and we don't know just where we can find anyone to replace them," Rentner said.

Bluegills Crowd Out Largemouth Bass Survey Over Two Years Shows

When bluegills are liberated in a lake they tend to multiply and crowd out largemouth bass. This is the conclusion drawn from a two-year experiment recently completed by the state natural history survey at Ridge Lake, in Fox Ridge state park near Charleston. This man-made lake is drained every two years and the fish are counted and weighed, after which the waters are restocked.

Two years ago a count showed 72 lbs. of fish per acre, 54 per cent of them largemouth bass; 9.7 per cent bluegills, and the remainder sunfish and bullheads which had come in from the stream that feeds the lake. The lake then was cleared, and restocked with 674 bass weighing 528.8 lbs. and 60 bluegills weighing 25 lbs.

This spring the lake was again drained, and yielded 2,509 bass weighing 566.8 lbs. and 67,731 bluegills, weighing 3,130.4 lbs. Bullheads, carp and buffalo fish brought the total up to 4,265 lbs. In two years the 60 bluegills had increased to 67,731, in spite of the presence of bass, which feed on bluegills.

Fire Damages Tavern At Loon Lake Tuesday

Fire starting from the flue of an oil burner, burned a hole in the roof of Carl's tavern at Loon Lake Tuesday evening.

The Antioch fire department made a quick trip and had the blaze extinguished in brief time. Carl Helgesen, owner of the tavern, estimated, his loss at about $50.

The Antioch department did its good deed Monday afternoon when it went to the meadow, east of the Soo line tracks and burned off the grass so that the high school boys could play baseball.

Holtorf Given Course In Poultry and Livestock Sanitation at St. Louis

Barney Holtorf of the Antioch Milling Company recently returned from St. Louis, Mo., where he attended an intensive course in sanitation for poultry and livestock. The course was given by specialists of the Ralston Purina Company's livestock and poultry feed division, and Holtorf was conducted through Ralston Purina's Research farm at Gray Summit, Mo.

"The loss of agricultural production through poultry and livestock mortality alone has been estimated by the government at a half-billion dollars," Holtorf was told. With six million farms in the nation, that is an average of $83 per farm per year, not to mention the immeasurable additional losses of production resulting from diseases and parasites which are not fatal to the stock.

Modern chemical discoveries such as DDT sprays for parasites and germs and 2-4-D for weeds are helping to overcome these losses and Holtorf studied the proper use of these new products.

Mrs. Andrew Cobb Wins Prize in Radio Contest

Mrs. Andrew Cobb, Box 125, Antioch, won $10 for her entry in the "Who Is It?" quiz program over WGN, April 16, when the question she submitted, describing a well-known personality in a series of clues, was used on the show. Sequoits Win Track and Field Meet at Barrington 60 to 42

Defeat Grant 77-17 and Will Go to Palatine Relays On Saturday

Antioch High took eight firsts and the relay in defeating Barrington High school there Tuesday afternoon in a hard fought track and field meet 60 to 42.

The Sequoits took all places in the high hurdles; first and third in the 440-yd dash; first and third in the discus; tied for first in the high jump; took second in the mile; second and third in the 220-yd. dash; second in the shot-put; third in the century; third in the 880-yd run; two tied at 11 feet in the pole vault; first and second in the low hurdles; and all four places in the broad jump.

The relay was run in 1:41 with Jones, Bodnarek, and the two Mattsons forming the team.

The Sequoits almost made a grand slam in the dual meet here last Thursday with Grant Township High school. The score was Antioch 77, Grant 17.

Lang's winning of the half mile was the only first accredited to the visitors.

With weak opposition Antioch's time was slow in comparison to those clicked off at Barrington this week.

Next on the schedule for the Sequoits is the invitational relays at Palatine Saturday. The boys will be in there pressing for points according to Coach Maurice Kruzan.

Barrington freshmen and sophomores will come to Antioch Saturday to meet the local freshman-sophomore team. If both teams are like the upperclassman the meet should be hard fought.

H. S. Board to Take Action on Busses May 7th

Teachers' Salaries To Be Determined at Meeting April 30

No definite action on school transportation, approved by the voters at a referendum on March 29, was taken at a meeting of the board of education last night, although considerable discussion of the matter was taken up. Since no agreement could be reached and all information was not available, it was decided to table the question until May 7, when a special meeting will be devoted to a study of the problem.

Other business taken up at the meeting involved teachers' salaries, and as in the case of the transportation matter, no action was taken but a date was set for final settlement of this question. The April 30th meeting will be entirely set aside for this purpose.

How To Raise Local Taxes

If a community wants to unnecessarily increase the taxes on all property owners, the process is a simple one. Just put some unit of government into business and grant it tax freedom—in place of taxed private business.

A very interesting example of that is now taking place in Sacramento, California. Some time ago Sacramento took over the distribution facilities of the private electric company which had served it well for many years—and which had carried a large part of the load of local taxes. Now, according to the city tax assessor-collector, business property will have to stand about a 10 per cent boost in city tax assessments. The main reason for the boost is that Sacramento is losing some $6,000,000 in assessed values. And the largest part of that loss is represented by the electric distribution system which the city took over from the private company last December 31.

This is but one recent example of something that has happened in all sections of the country. The most glaring examples are the great Federal power projects. These are enormous operations, worth hundreds of millions of dollars, and if owned by regulated private utilities they would pay gigantic sums in taxes to all units of government. But most of them, being government owned, pay not a single solitary dime in taxes. TVA makes "token" payments to the states in which it operates, but these are miniscular compared to what a private company of the same size would pay.

Here is one reason why the tax problem, on the state and local as well as the national level, is as grave as it is today. When government business supplants private business, every taxpayer must help make up the tax loss.

What The Consumer Wants

The National Retail Dry Goods Association recently made a survey of customer desires throughout the nation. Among other things, it found that the public believes that prices should be lower and quality should be higher.

There is nothing surprising in this—all of us would like to get more for our money. We yearn for a Utopia in which we earn 1947 incomes and buy at the 1935 price level. That idea, of course, is beyond realization. But both manufacturers and retailers are working harder than most of us realize to do something constructive about the price-quality problem.

This problem has two main phases. First, there is that of profits. The "boom and bust" operators whose idea is to squeeze out every possible nickel while the going is good are rapidly disappearing, due to consumer resistance on the one hand and to constantly increasing competition by reputable concerns on the other. This is especially true in all retail fields now that stocks are building up and most scarcities are ending.

Second, there is worker productivity, which determines the ratio of labor cost to the final cost of any article. Practically all producers say that it is far lower than it was before the war—and even lower than in wartime when speed took precedence over economy and efficiency. Too many workers, in short, just want more money for less production. Thus, it is largely up to the worker, who is also a consumer, to increase output and so help make lower prices possible.

The organized drive by retailers to bring prices down is an encouraging sign. Success will depend upon full, intelligent cooperation between business, labor, and the consumer.

Meeting Fire's Threat

The President's Conference on Fire Prevention, which will meet May 6-8 in Washington, D. C., has a series of specific objectives.

It will study building construction, operation and protection, with a view to finding means of eliminating present dangers.

It will consider the wide field of fire prevention education, with particular emphasis on instructional aides for schools and colleges.

It will analyze the adequacy of fire-fighting facilities and personnel, and make recommendations for needed improvement.

It will explore the broad question of laws and law enforcement as they relate to fire prevention and fire safety.

It will recommend a plan for obtaining organized, aggressive public support of fire prevention activity in all its phases.

It will establish a program for continuous research with respect to fire, which will provide information on which laws and regulations can be based.

The Conference will mark the start of the most intensive drive against the fire menace ever undertaken. President Truman called it to meet a grave and immediate emergency. And it can do its job only if it receives the widest possible public support.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Today I am going into a huddle with the young mamas and paps—on how to bring up their off-shoots, so when same get to be 21, they will know a sheep from a goat if they hear one bleat.

We been goin' through the U. S. A.'s greatest sucker era. When somebody has popped up and said, fellow citizens, let me fix it so you will have more but sweat less, we say, Oif-Boy. The bottom foundation under our country—the right to work and to prosper if you dispensed the best hamburger, or made the best moving picture, or gave the best haircut—was dynamited. Folks got to believing the glib artists. And now, as we rub our eyes, everything is scarce—except discontent.

I been harpin' on getting AEsop on the curriculum in our school houses—but no luck. And the graduates keep coming out, not knowing a wolf if he is in sheep's raiment. So now I am appealing to the young mamas and paps to take their off-spring on their knee and read to him each night, before he is popped into bed, a story by Mr. AEsop. And as he grows a little older tell him things like how refusing to cross a picket line is feathering the other guy's nest—not his.

And now for the bad news for the new mamas and paps—baby sittin' is your job, henceforth.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

ful but they are polite. The only etiquette observed when rescuing scantily-clad women—for instance from a bathtub—is, just don't break down the door.

"Knock first and say, 'Ma'm, this is the fire department'—then break down the door," said the chief.

Best example of female self-control during a fire occurred a few years ago.

"During a hotel fire we broke through a smoke-filled lobby to the stairway," Fitzgerald said. "We started up—there, coming down through the smoke was a young woman leading a dog. In her right hand was a bird cage, and a purse over her wrist. On her head bobbed an enormous picture hat. The hat was the extent of her clothing.

"Yet her cool thinking had saved her life—and undoubtedly her most prized possessions."

113 Million Days Were Lost By Strikes in '46, Report

WASHINGTON. — Less than one per cent of the 4,700 strikes and lockouts in 1946 caused nearly three-fourths of the record loss in working time.

The government bureau of labor statistics reported that all idleness due to labor-management disputes amounted to 113 million man-days. This is triple the prior record high of 38,025,000 man-days lost in 1945 and four times the 28,425,000 in 1937, the next highest year.

Out of the total 4,700 work stoppages only 35 involved strikes of more than 10,000 workers. These included such walkouts as those in coal, steel, automobile, railroad, electrical and maritime industries.

Forget Modesty When Home Is Gripped by Fire

Trouserless Men Are Timid But Women Calm And Practical.

SEATTLE.—False modesty is the curse of the male, not the female. Man can face any crisis—if he has his trousers. That is not a psychiatrist speaking. It's Chief William Fitzgerald of the Seattle fire department. He has first hand knowledge of human behavior under pressure.

"In our rescues we've learned man's first act upon smelling smoke is not to call the fire department—but to scramble into his pants. A woman grabs the telephone—then her purse. She's calm and very practical," he said.

"We have less trouble with women. Men want to run the show, or they get panicky... won't listen. But the women are gracious and cooperative. It's a real pleasure to rescue them."

When He Gets His Pants.
On the other hand, when the man arrives safely on the sidewalk he's more practically clothed than his wife. Whereas, before he was excited while his wife was calm—now he's nonchalant, his wife unnerved. "But still I say," Fitzgerald said, "It's a cinch to be brave with your pants on."

To prove his point Fitzgerald recalled the 300-pound man who timidly poked his head from the 11th floor of a flaming downtown hotel. Spying hundreds of spectators below he hesitated to use the ladder because he was nude. Increasing warmth from behind urged him out the window, however, and onto the ladder.

"Now that's not the way a woman would have acted," he continued. "You don't think of propriety when your house is afire. Women don't. Neither do firemen. Men do."

Dwight Dixon, pastor
Church School, 10 a. m.
Worship service, 11 a. m.
Wesley club, 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Dixon's sermon topic for next Sunday morning worship service is "Why be Christian?" All are very welcome.

Lawrence Knox, of Mechanicsburg, Ohio, and Miss Irene McChesney, of Grand Marsh, Wis., were united in marriage at the Community church last Saturday evening by Rev. Dixon. They were attended by the bride's brother and sister. Mr. Knox is employed in Waukegan, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Knox is a sister of Mrs. Lester Neff of this village, and a reception for the newly weds was held at the village hall during the evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Dixon spent Saturday in Chicago. They were accompanied by a group of Wesley club children, Patty Brock, Janet Bunkelman, Karen and Donna Martin and Jack Armstrong and saw the picture "Born Yesterday" at the Erlanger theater.

Due to the fact that Mrs. Boyer was called to Chicago very suddenly by the death of a relative, the W. S. C. S. held no meeting last Wednesday, but did meet at the Boyer home on Wednesday afternoon this week.

The Birthday Club of which Mrs. Lela Barnstable is a member surprised her last Friday afternoon by holding a birthday party in her honor at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ada Barnstable. Out of town guests were Mrs. Bertha Fish, of Wauconda, Mrs. Bertha Burnett, of Antioch and Mrs. Evelyn Haman and children, of Waukegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Fish and Jimmy, were in Waukegan on Sunday to help Sandra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Haman celebrate her fifth birthday anniversary.

LIBRARY NOTES

"The Empire Builders," by Robert Ormond Case, is a vivid presentation of individuals who were prominent in the winning of Oregon. Veined with humor, hardship and danger, this is a dramatic story of a sudden transition from wilderness to commonwealth. "The Empire Builders" was presented to the library in memory of Mrs. Richard Whitacre's father. "All be the Same in a Hundred Years," Jack Turner, main character in Nevil Shute's new novel, always said. And perhaps it will, but Mr. Shute's main purpose in writing "The Chequer Board" seems to be the outlining of some of the things that could be changed to the world's benefit.

fit. With consummate skill, the story moves from an England seldom pictured to alien lands and customs and never fails to entertain.

Mrs. Fred Hawkins left Sunday for Los Angeles, California, to visit her daughter, Mrs. William Overton, and family. Mrs. Overton is very ill.

Robert Sheehan is a medical patient at St. Therese hospital, Waukegan.

Vast Areas of Mystery Closed To Civilized Man

Explorer Says There Are at Least Ten Sections Still Primitive in Extreme.

NEW YORK.—There are still vast areas on the earth about which little is known and in which civilized man is least likely to succeed—or live. Aside from the polar regions, one explorer says, there are at least ten such areas—thousands of miles of mystery—lying like deep, wide holes in man's geographical knowledge.

They are primitive in the extreme, and the unprepared white man would find it difficult to sustain himself in any of them or make friends. They are vast tracts of impenetrable jungle, burning desert sand and bleak forbidding plateaus containing highly provincial natives unfriendly to strangers.

Falling into this category is the Lolo country of western China where reports said a group of American fliers crashed and were enslaved by the local citizenry.

Uncharted Areas. According to Geoffrey M. Tate, New York director of Archbold expeditions, there are ten virtually uncharted areas which the flier, if he has any choice, would do well to avoid in making a forced landing.

They include other ill-defined areas of China, Tibet, Mongolia, Burma, Indo-China, the central Arabian desert, the Sahara, central Australia, central New Guinea and central South America.

The first and worst problem for the white man who drops in suddenly, says Tate, is finding himself food and shelter. Then, there is the business of getting along with the natives.

Many of these "trouble" zones have been crossed only once or twice by explorers who came back to tell what they saw but learned next to nothing about the country 100 yards away from the paths they cautiously followed.

Hot Sand, Little Water. In central Arabia, for example, there are approximately a quarter of a million square miles of hot sand, little water, and small, isolated groups of nomadic tribes which, Tate said, "would give any white man an unpleasant reception." He added:

"In any of these places, when a white man is killed, it's usually his own fault."

"In Tibet, there are whole towns highly sacred to the natives and not open to strangers. In South America, they make a foul-tasting drink called 'cashiri.' The visiting white man is met outside the village by the chief and his associates and offered a drink.

"As bad as it looks and smells, the drink should never be refused. If it is, you've got enemies on your hands."

Tate, who has spent much of his life exploring the unknown, working with the Archbold expeditions and the American Museum of Natural History, says these ten areas are largely unexplored because they have little or no commercial possibilities to attract the white man.

His best advice is to stay away from these spots, if you have a choice.

Parachutes Rocket Warhead From a Height of 68 Miles

WHITE SANDS, N. M. — The army succeeded in parachuting a one-ton instrument-filled warhead of a German V-2 rocket from a height of 68 miles, more than twice the altitude which the Germans thought possible.

The feat was accomplished with two parachutes. The first drop of around 40 miles was handled with one 8 feet in diameter. Another, 14 feet in diameter, was released then by an explosive charge. The warhead took 50 minutes to come down. It drifted about 25 miles.

With radar and a helicopter, the instruments were located immediately, solving a difficulty which has beset previous attempts to obtain data on the upper atmosphere.

Lt. Col. Harold R. Turner, proving ground commandant, forecast that cameras in the warhead had obtained "extraordinary photographs." Scientific data was recorded by gauges prepared by University of Michigan researchers and placed in the warhead.

Dad Reported Legally Dead Proves Very Much Alive

WHEATLAND, PA.—There is a dead man living in Brewster, Wash., with his wife and four children.

He is Joseph Damian, 34, formerly of Wheatland, who was declared legally dead by the courts November 13, 1945.

Damian left home in 1932 "to go to a bigger and better town to look for work." Nothing was heard from him again.

His sister, Mrs. Ann Damian Shanku, 30, waited 13 years before asking the courts to declare Damian dead.

Last summer the truth came to light in a letter from a relative to an attorney handling the estate.

Mrs. Shanku wrote her brother and told him she would file petition to bring him back to legal life.

Lake Villa Students at U. of I. Gain Recognition

Libertyville Board Fires School Superintendent

Libertyville is torn with dissension as the result of the action of the school board in notifying Carl W. Baylor, superintendent for the last eight years that his contract for that position will not be renewed.

The board set forth ten reasons for Baylor's dismissal, alleging mainly incompetency. Baylor in reply has cited commendations of the state Superintendent of Public Instruction as to his ability, while members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Lions club have demanded greater detail from the board relative to the charges.

Ghosts Control Gran Chaco in South America

Natives Not Yet Dead Borne To Graves Because of Odd Superstitions.

WASHINGTON.—The Gran Chaco, the great, partly forested, partly open plain that lies almost in the center of the South American continent, north of the Pampas, is to the Indians who inhabit the region a land of ghosts.

A Handbook of South American Indians, issued by Smithsonian Institution in cooperation with the department of state, says that so fantastic are the natives' superstitions that often a house where a death has occurred is immediately burned. All the dead man's property then is destroyed and the villagers may even leave the neighborhood to find shelter with some other group for protection against return of the man's ghost.

"Some bands of the Indians believe," the institution explains, "that the chilled spirit of the departed will return to his deserted home looking for a fire. Lest he cast cold ashes in the air because of his disappointment and so bring bad luck on the living, the ashes are collected and buried before the village is abandoned."

Hurried to grave. "Burial must take place immediately after death, but dire consequences are believed to follow a burial at night. When a man is considered beyond all hope, funeral preparations start at once. The dying man is dressed in his grave ornaments. If it appears that he may continue alive until dark, he is buried anyway. Sometimes his death is hastened by the local medicine man. Sometimes it is assumed that he will expire on his way to the grave. But, in any event, protection against his ghost requires that burial take place before dusk."

Among the Yahgan Indians of the mountainous, forested islands north of Cape Horn soul-stealing is one of the serious pastimes. The medicine men among those Indians are supposed to have the extraordinary ability to steal one's soul, which is one of the neater tricks of civilization. However, when somebody feels that his soul is missing, as persons even in the most advanced communities sometimes do, he hires another man to steal it back for him.

Six Souls to a Man. In the matter of souls, the Botocudo Indians of Brazil are more forehanded than the Yahgans, for they equip each adult with several of them—some get as many as six. Only one of these, however, has its headquarters in the body. The others hang around near by, just in case. To get the first soul, a Botocudo has to attain at least the age of 4. After that the others are picked up in transit. When a man leaves this mortal coil, the Botocudos think, the first soul dies with him, while the others fly above the grave weeping. Then good spirits, called the maret, come to their rescue and carry them off to their land, whence there is no return transportation. The more tough-minded tribes, however, believe these extra souls turn into man-eating jaguars.

The Botocudo also believes that from the bones of the corpse rise ghosts called nanitongs, and these ghosts reside in the underworld, where the sun shines during the terrestrial night. One of the jobs of the maret, however, is to protect survivors against visits by these ghosts, but even though they keep a pretty close vigil, occasionally one gets past the sentries and accosts a relative who tries to thrash the apparition.

These spirits are ruled by "Father White-Head," a giant with white hair and a red beard, who sends rain and storms, kills enemies with invisible arrows and causes the phases of the moon by throwing a blanket over it, or so the Botocudo thinks.

Gun Demonstration Fatal to Lawyer; Only Bullet in Pistol

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.—While Albert Stiefel, 45-year-old attorney, talked with a woman client in his office, he took out a gun to illustrate a point in the conversation.

"Be careful," the woman said, "that might be loaded."

He pointed the pistol toward a window and pulled the trigger several times. There was only a series of clicks.

Stiefel then put the gun in his temple and pulled the trigger again, police quoted the woman as saying. A bullet ripped through his head, killing him instantly.

Quick-Draw Contest Is Fatal; Forgets Last Shell in Gun

HONOLULU.—A private on guard duty at Fort Kamehameha claimed he was quicker on the draw than the corporal of the guard.

They agreed on a test. Both removed the cartridge clips from their weapons, whipped the guns to firing position and pulled the triggers.

The private fell dead, with a pistol slug in his chest. The corporal had forgotten the single shell in his pistol chamber.

Returns for Her Shoes, Dies of Blaze in Home

NORTON, VA.—After dashing from her burning home, Beulah Peake, 14, remembered she had left her shoes under her bed. She went back after them. Firemen found her charred body later, after burning timbers had fallen and pinned her in the flaming house. She had her shoes in hand.

Murdered Countess Called Spy for U. S.

She Was Murdered for Atomic Bomb Documents.

PARIS.—A beautiful countess whose nude body was found in northern France more than a year ago was in reality an American counter-intelligence agent murdered by a foreign spy for atomic bomb documents, testimony in the trial of a murder suspect alleged.

Dispatches from Douai said the body of Countess Sauty de Cahlon was found near there November 26, 1945.

Leon Meurant, charged with the murder in a Douai court, was arrested when the countess' clothing was found in his abandoned car.

Meurant claimed that he met the countess in Brussels and had been instructed to watch her by a fellow spy, a woman who he said was known only as "the Mongolian."

He said the countess asked him to drive her to Paris.

Meurant said he reported to "the Mongolian" and was told the countess was an American agent carrying papers pertaining to the atomic bomb.

Meurant said he was instructed to drive her to Paris.

Shortly after they crossed the border into France a car drew ahead of them and stopped, Meurant said. "The Mongolian" got out and asked for a ride.

Then, said Meurant, she strangled the countess with one of her own stockings.

Police discounted Meurant's story but admitted they were unable to discover a motive for the crime.

25 Garden Spots of Miami Were Pumped Out of the Sea

MIAMI.—People are walking today where seven months ago only boats sailed and fish swam. The Miami area's 25 man-made islands have changed the Miami scene in the last quarter century and dredges are still at work pumping additional garden spots out of the sea.

Six more islands are being created by owners who bought the land from the state of Florida at around $1,000 an acre and obtained the necessary war department permits for pumping.

When the islands are constructed, complete with pavements and utilities, they are landscaped so that within two or three years there is vegetation as thick as greeted Ponce de Leon four centuries ago.

Contrary to general belief, Biscayne bay itself benefits from the creation of islands since the pumping deepens the channels to the satisfaction of fishermen and boatmen alike.

'Best Legs' in United States On 'Beefy' Side, Says Agent

CHICAGO.—Barry Stephens, Chicago artists' representative, who says that in his work of selecting models for artists he has viewed more than 25,000 pairs of women's legs, chose these women as the "best-legged" in the United States:

Alice Faye, Ann Miller and Betty Grable, motion picture actresses; Flora Stuart, dancer, and Beryl Davis, English singer now in Hollywood.

"Leg likes and dislikes run in cycles," Stephens said. "The scrawny, thin leg is out. Editors and advertising men are asking for a fuller calf and a longer thigh than before the war. If the trend continues, we will see a return to the 'beef-trusters.'"

Air Show Stunt Fatal; Flier Dies in Crash as 5,000 Watch

TULSA.—An air show stunt developed a tragic twist as 5,000 persons watched 29-year-old Wesley W. Cunningham plunge to his death while pretending to be unable to fly.

As part of a skit at the Tulsa police air patrol show, Cunningham, wearing a woman's wig and clothes, was pulled from the crowd and placed in a light plane. Protesting he was unable to fly, the young patrolman took off and began stunting.

Cunningham failed to bring his plane out of the first of a series of low-altitude spins and crashed.

Pilot Wrecks His Plane to Save Lives of 50 Children

HAVERHILL, MASS.—A Haverhill pilot risked his life rather than endanger children skating on Round pond.

When the engine of his plane failed, Anthony Walker, 22, headed for Round pond, where he could have landed safely on the ice. However, 50 children were skating there and Walker chose to crash-land at nearby Winnekennil park.

Baby Survives Leap in Dad's Arms From Fiery Airplane

SHANGHAI.—An American missionary's desperate leap from a flaming air liner with his infant son saved the baby's life, but the father and all the other 24 persons aboard were killed, eye-witnesses said.

The lone survivor, 16-month-old Paul Vick of Rochester, N. Y., was brought to a Shanghai hospital from the scene of the crash, 95 miles southwest of Hankow. He suffered a broken leg but his recovery was reported assured. He will be taken to his father's parents in the United States.

Paul's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Vick, and his elder brother were among the victims. Others of the 11 Americans and Canadians who died in the crash of the Chinese National Aviation Corp. liner included Methodist Bishop Schuyler Edward Garth and his wife, of Madison, Wis.

Japanese Surgeon Ends Own Life; War Crimes Charged

TOKYO.—Hideo Chikami, one-time surgeon accused in war crimes charges of cutting the heart out of an Australian soldier to watch its dying pulsations, strangled himself after writing "I am sure I cannot escape punishment... and cannot endure the humiliation." He tied a rope to a tree, placed one end about his neck, then took morphine. As he slumped unconscious the rope pulled tight.

MILLBURN

Rev. L. H. Messersmith has chosen "Father, We Forgive Them," as his sermon topic for Sunday, April 27.

Last fall, during a leave of absence, Mr. Randall was granted passage on a boat carrying horses to Poland. The Elgin Rotary Club furnished colored film and Mr. Randall brought back some excellent pictures. He plans to make a similar trip this fall and contemplates taking gifts for the children and the poor.

In order to raise a fund for these gifts, he asks at least $25 of his audiences. There will be an offering taken Friday evening to cover this charge. Everyone in the community is urged to come and learn more of conditions in Poland.

VIRGINIA, MINN. — Glen Brace, 5, was bitten to death here by six doberman pinscher dogs that got free from their pen as the boy was looking at them. Dr. J. Arnold Malmstrom, deputy coroner, said Glen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brace of Virginia, died of multiple bites.

Ohio Mystic Beats His Mother to Death

Says 'Her Number Came Up' So That Settled It.

COLUMBUS, OHIO. — Ernest Wright, a 42-year-old mystic with a beard and a penchant for preaching sermons to chickens, beat his 75-year-old mother to death with his hands and a piece of iron because "her number came up last night," he told police.
"My life is based on a series of numbers and mother's number—708—came up last night," he said.
The number 708 was written on the side of a stove from which Wright ripped the piece of iron with which he battered his mother, Mrs. Lavinia Wright. She was found dead in bed from a skull fracture, a brain hemorrhage and broken neck after Wright telephoned for police.
He described himself as a minister in the "Church of Christ Campbellites," and said he usually went nude about the house. His neighbors said he sometimes preached sermons to his flock of chickens. At other times, they said, he preached from the top of the small house where he lived with his aged mother.
Wright told police his mother was "a witch—the most powerful witch in America."
"She had to be eliminated," he added simply.
"When the time came to perform the operation, I acted on schedule."

Gets Life Term as Kidnapor; Wins Freedom After 14 Years

JEFFERSON CITY, MO. — Marshall Depew, 52, was free 14 years after he entered Missouri penitentiary to serve a life sentence for the sensational 1931 kidnaping of Mrs. Nell Donnelly, Kansas City dress manufacturer and later the wife of U. S. Sen. James A. Reed.
Announcing his release, the parole board said Depew had been one of the best workers the prison ever had.
Depew was one of three men convicted of kidnaping Mrs. Donnelly and holding her for $75,000 ransom. She and her chauffeur were released unharmed. Depew later was arrested in South Africa and returned for trial. His accomplices, Charles Mele and Walter Wener, are still in prison.

Woman, Aged 72, Grabs Aims Box Back From 6-Foot Thief

CHICAGO. — Mrs. Mary Porch, owner of a small south side restaurant, called police and reported that a customer had attempted to steal a charity fund box.
After paying for a cup of coffee, the man, about 35 and six feet tall, grabbed the box which contained contributions from patrons, Mrs. Porch told police.
"You can't do that," Mrs. Porch said she told the thief and she grabbed his arm and took the box away from him.
As he fled, Mrs. Porch, who is 72, went to the kitchen to report the incident to her son, Louis, 34.

An Epidemic of Influenza Has Attacked London Horses

LONDON. — London horses have the flu.
More than 1,000 have fallen ill. They sneeze and shiver under extra blankets while grooms take temperatures and prepare special rations of hot steamed hay and bran.
Freight deliveries were threatened, since London relies heavily on the 7,000 to 10,000 horses estimated as its present equine population. The London Midland & Scottish railway reported more than 100 of its 312 horses sick.

Moscow Radio Reports Soviet Scientists Evolve New Grain

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

SWINE ERYSIPELAS IS VERY CONFUSING

Swine erysipelas is one of the most difficult of all livestock diseases to control, but there are several steps that can help to check the heavy toll it is now taking on American farms.
The first point to remember is that erysipelas may be confused with other swine diseases. Because it is so easily confused with other maladies, and so highly contagious, it is vital that an accurate, dependable diagnosis be obtained at the first sign of symptoms which look like this disease.
Arched backs may signify erysipelas.

Prevention seems to be the best answer to erysipelas. A very effective vaccine has now been developed which gives a high degree of immunity. In areas where the disease has become a problem, pigs should be vaccinated as soon as possible after farrowing, because it often strikes them when they are only a few days old.
Strict sanitary and quarantine measures must also be put into effect quickly, or erysipelas may run through the entire herd and spread to other farms. These measures include the isolation of affected hogs, prompt disposal of carcasses, and immediate cleaning and disinfecting of pens.
In the acute form, erysipelas kills many hogs and makes others unprofitable for market. Symptoms include sooty and sloughing skin, swollen joints, arched backs, lameness, high fever and unwillingness to move unless forcibly roused.
Twenty years ago, swine erysipelas had been reported in only half the states. Now it exists in nearly all states, and causes yearly losses running into the millions of dollars.

Vitamin A for winter health is supplied in large quantities through eating fall greens.

Cooking Broccoli

Cooking broccoli presents the problem of getting the thick stems tender without overcooking the fragile flower tops. This is most successfully done by cutting off the stems, paring off the tough layers and then slicing the stems lengthwise before putting them on to cook. Broccoli should cook tender in 15 minutes. Broccoli should be taken from the cooking water as soon as tender and served immediately.

Runaway Pup Returns To Find Master Dead CHICAGO.—Blackie, a black mongrel puppy, came home after his first overnight disappearance. But his 13-year-old master was not there to greet him. The youth, Joey Craig, had hanged himself with Blackie's collar, despairing that the animal ever would return.

'Cave Man' Murders His Reluctant Wife Couple Hadn't Spoken to Each Other in Seven Years. LAWRENCEBURG, IND. — Walter Koehler, 44, a prosperous farmer, who said he and his wife seldom had spoken to one another for seven years, confessed he had shot and killed her because she spurned his love-making which involved dragging her by her hair. He and his wife, Margaret, 38, had been married 20 years and had four children, the oldest 19, the youngest 2. In recent months Koehler had become increasingly bitter toward her because of her sullenness. He said he decided she would make up with him or die. He gave her her last chance January 10. She rejected his advances on a screened porch of their farm home, and he shot her with a rifle he had hidden under a couch. He at first told authorities she had killed herself, saying he found her body when he returned from a trip to Harrison, Ohio. Authorities became suspicious when an autopsy, performed at a Cincinnati hospital, showed that the bullet which entered her brain could not have been self-inflicted because of its path. Bruises also were found on her body.

Koehler broke down and signed a statement in which he said he shot his wife while their two youngest children, Bobby, 2, and Rita May, 4, slept in an adjoining room. St. J. E. Negenard said the couple was happy until 1929. Koehler was successful, with a 150-acre farm and a good herd of dairy cattle. Authorities said they did not know what caused their domestic difficulties. On the fatal morning Koehler said he waited until his son, Bernard, 19, had gone to work, and his son, Donald, 13, had gone to school. He dragged his wife by her hair onto the porch and made advances. She resisted and they fought. She fell and he took the rifle from its hiding place beneath the couch and shot her as she stood over her. After signing the confession, he was charged with murder. "You never would have caught me by fingerprints," Koehler said as he was led away. "I wore gloves."

Woman Expecting Baby Freed After Slaying Her Husband BALTIMORE, MD. — Mildred Margaret Abney, 21-year-old expectant mother, was freed of the charge of murder after she told a federal jury her husband had suggested she "get rid of" her unborn child. The panel of bankers and businessmen announced its verdict after an hour and a half of deliberation. Spectators in the crowded courtroom shouted and clapped their approval. Mrs. Abney admitted on the witness stand that she had shot Sgt. Jean Richard Abney, 28, of Junction City, Kans., five times after he spurned her attempt to patch up their marriage at Fort George G. Meade, Md., last January 5. While Abney was stationed on New Caledonia, it was testified, the army began deducting an allotment from his pay for the support of an illegitimate child on the South Pacific island.

Expectant Mother Loses Her Guessing Game With Stork CLEVELAND.—Twice in the last three months Angelo Gullo and his wife, Geraldine, have tried to rush the stork. On December 20 Geraldine awoke at midnight and insisted on being taken to the hospital. Gullo bundled her up and delivered her. "Not yet," said the doctor. "Take her home." February 2 the same thing happened. "You're rushing it," said the doc. "Come back later." Again on March 1 Geraldine was sure it was time. Gullo rushed her to Cleveland Osteopathic hospital. This time they were too late. The doctor rushed out to the car and finished the delivery in the back seat.

Loose Cash in United States Is On 900 Million Dollars WASHINGTON.—Money in circulation has shrunk nearly 900 million dollars since Christmas Eve, and officials are watching carefully for signs of a possible new trend. They pronounced the drop the biggest ever to occur in a similar period, but they said more time will be required to show whether it was merely an unusually large "seasonal" decline. But should the shrinkage continue, they said, it will indicate that people are drawing upon their cash savings to meet rising living costs.

HOUSE CLEANING HINTS To remove watermarks from a waxed finish, take off old wax with liquid wax; apply a fresh coat. To mildew-proof awnings and shower curtains, soak them in very soapy water and, without rinsing, dip them in a solution of copper sulphate, which you can get at the drug store. To protect floors from furniture marks and scratches, wax rockers and feet of chairs and tables when you wax your floors. To make your home "come clean" from attic to cellar, get BRIGHT SAIL cleaning aids at your A&P. Every one of these fine products does such a thorough job that no homemaker should be without them.
